It's Time to Hand the Reins Over...

By Jason Ridlon, BCHW President

Well, it's time to hand over the reins, and I find myself at another junction in the ever-winding trail. I am hanging up my hat as your BCHW State President. No leader accomplishes anything alone and so many people are involved in the many truly transformative achievements.

In my 2-year term, I have had the privilege to work with an amazing team of dedicated and passionate committees and a great set of state officers (Rob DeBoer "BCHW Vice President", Tina Short "State Secretary", and Teri Starke "State Treasurer"). I can say it has been quite an eventful ride with our BCHW Chapters and their leaders.

Kathy Young (Public Lands Chair) and Mitzi Schindele (Legislative Chair) worked together as a successful team to support BCHW. It was a real pleasure to work with them.

Dana Chambers (Membership Chair and so many other supportive roles) was instrumental in helping in so many different ways (jot forms, online auctions, helping our State Treasurer, etc.). She is such a value to BCHW and also to BCHA.

Susan Sundahl (Awards Chair) and I had the honor to deliver the 2020 awards all around the state to so many deserving volunteers. Her coordination efforts made it fun, and I have so many great memories.

My Executive Advisory Committee helped me with advice during my Presidency and I am not sure I would have made it through the shutdown due to the pandemic in 2020 without them. The members are below.

Sherri Wright: Lewis County Chapter

Janelle Wilson: Skagit Chapter/past state secretary

Ken Carmichael: Ponderosa Chapter/Governance Bylaws Chair/BCHW director

Lori Lennox: Grays Harbor Chapter/BCHW Store/BCHW director

Bob Iddins: (Trail Dusters)

Doug Stewart: Northeast Chapter/director

Dave Jackson: Purple Sage Riders Chapter

Rob DeBoer: Skagit Chapter/BCHW Vice President

Kathy Young: Tahoma Chapter/Past BCHW President

Another group that has worked tirelessly this last year bringing forward the BCHW Re-imagined Proposal is below. They worked together and received a lot of feedback on ways we might move forward as an organization. This group truly cares about the future of BCHW and it shows in their commitment by the many hours they have dedicated to researching, listening, and receiving feedback from our membership.

Doug Stewart (Northeast)

Louise Caywood (Pierce Co)

Kathy Iddins (Trail Dusters)

Bob Iddins (Trail Dusters)

Traci Koch (Oakland Bay)

Jim Anderson (Mt St Helens)

BCHW Mission Statement

BCHW is affiliated with Back Country Horsemen of America (hereinafter "BCHA") and therefore adopts the BCHA mission statement as follows: The mission of this organization shall be:

- To perpetuate the common-sense use and enjoyment of horses in America's back country and wilderness.
- To work to insure that public lands remain open to recreational stock use.
- To assist the various governmental and private agencies in their maintenance and management of said resource.
- To educate, encourage and solicit active participation in the wise use of the back country resource by horsemen and the general public commensurate with our heritage.
- To foster and encourage the formation of new chapters in the state organization.

Are You and Your Equine Prepared for a Natural Disaster?

By Tina Short, BCHW Independent Member

There are all kinds of natural disasters such as flooding, wildfires, and other natural disasters in the United States. With these events, there is increased concern regarding how to prepare equine owners for various natural disaster situations.

Being prepared before disasters occur is the best way to increase your animal's chance of survival and safety. The BCHW website (bchw.org) has documents that are one-to-two pages that you can print off and post where you can build your plan. These plans point out areas to focus upon.

Preparing horses for an evacuation requires an extra level of planning, preparedness, and practice. Building an evacuation kit for each horse/mule and having a plan for them that's been practiced increases the potential your equine will be able to leave when you do.

Below are a few tips from some of the plans posted on the BCHW website.

- Follow evacuation plan. Have a back-up plan. Consider different types of disasters and what each might need for a plan. Share your plan with friends and neighbors.
- Ensure your equine has identification. The goal of identification for your animal is reunification in case you become separated during the disaster. It can include an ID tag attached to a halter or mark with your name and phone number with a livestock crayon on the equine.
- Prepare a "go bag." Include a copy of papers, medication, an extra halter and lead rope, basic grooming supplies, a picture of you and your horse together, and basic first-aid supplies. Does your safe place have fresh water or hay? Do you have buckets and hay bags for easy feeding?
- Plan more than one route out of your property. Unless you're at the end of a dead-end street, plan how you will get out if main exits are closed.
- Establish evacuation locations. Getting out is only half the feat. It's also important to have a few safe locations to escape to where you can feed, water and assess your horse's condition. Identify friends or relatives who could house livestock in the short term, along with fairgrounds or other livestock evacuation locations identified by local emergency management and local livestock organizations.
- Practice trailer loading well in advance. Having a horse that will load right up when time is limited could make the difference between evacuating ...and not. Also, fuel up the truck and trailer and make sure it's in working order. Even if you do not use your trailer regularly, take the time to make sure it is inspected regularly and tire pressure is checked frequently. 🐾

A special call out to our BCHW Independent Contractor Grant Manager Jen Bond and all her help with various grants. I feel she will be a valuable asset to our grant management program and will seek out new grant opportunities. I would recommend volunteers contact her if they are looking for grants. Darrell Wallace was there as my grant manager and provided me support at the BOD meetings as Parliamentarian.

I only have so many words allowed for this article so please know that those people who I did not list were also valuable to the team. Many of them are why my 13 years in BCHW have been so meaningful while being supported by so many volunteers.

I believe I made my mark on BCHW history by being the only elected president that has ever missed three board meetings in their first year, had to cancel two Rendezvous events, was a part of the 2020 virtual wine ride while still managing to proceed on capturing numerous grant hours and meet our mission of keeping trails or reopening trails in Washington State, despite the limitations placed on us at the state and county levels due to the pandemic.

Among some other efforts accomplished by tireless volunteers was the new BCHW website (special thanks to Scott Lee, Dana Chambers, and Tina Short), a couple of online auctions, the opportunity for BCHW to sign four RCO grants for 2022/2023, and centralized accounting.

I also want to thank those individuals who were gracious enough to donate money to BCHW in an effort to help us continue to meet our mission. It means a lot to me that you felt so passionate about our trails and keeping them open.

I leave this Presidency with hopes that BCHW members continue to look for opportunities to keep our organization sustainable and keep us moving forward into the future. Hope to see you out on the trails. 🐾

Membership Renewal

By Ken Carmichael

Membership renewal time is here, and BCH needs the support of all our members.

The goals and challenges have not diminished over the past year. BCH continues to work for all of us to keep trails open. Our chapters and state work parties do an extensive amount of trail building and maintenance. Education of equestrians, other recreation groups, land managers, and policymakers continue to be necessary. In addition, BCH is a significant advocate for equestrians. BCH also brings together people of like interests in a social environment. Of course, I am talking about some good potlucks and rides.

To renew our membership in BCHW is easy and quick. Just go to the www.bchw.org website. Click on "Memberships, Join, Renew," then click "Join or Renew for 2022" If you wish, you can print out a form and mail it. You can also ask your chapter Membership Chair for a form to mail. Remember, you can be a member and participate in multiple chapters. The best time to do this is now while you are thinking about it.

It is also important to reach out to your friends and "sing the song" about BCH. Tell them why you joined and the benefits to them. Then talk to those people you meet at the trailhead or on the trail. Let them know that BCH exists and the great work we do for them.

Remember, BCH is working for you to keep trails open, but we need your help and support. 🐾

Supporting the Community

By Ken Carmichael

As we enter the new year, we make resolutions and plans for accomplishing and doing; this can be fun and productive.

As I participate in various activities and listen to the news, it becomes very apparent that there are many opportunities to do things outside of the home, work, and recreation. There are so many opportunities to participate in our community.

I have been listening to some seminars on managing nonprofits and hearing about what other organizations are doing. It gets a person thinking about how we support our community and where our interests and needs are.

Not all opportunities are with nonprofits, such as school boards or city councils. Volunteers get things done in this world. So it is not hard to see and feel the benefits of community volunteers. I am on the boards of three nonprofits besides BCHW, and they are all looking for talented individuals.

The key to volunteering is to identify your interests first then see how your skills, talents, time, and abilities fit with that interest. To volunteer, we should have a connection to the CAUSE (why the organization exists). There are the responsibilities of Care, Loyalty, and Obedience, which is a discussion in itself. Volunteering should be a privilege, not a burden.

So, what causes are you passionate about? Where do you fit into the health of the community? Where are you willing to put some skin in the game? I can tell you one place to start looking, and that is Back Country Horsemen. Why here? Because BCHW works to improve our lives as horsemen. BCHW reaches out to the communities we live in, works with other groups, public land managers, and policymakers that directly affect our lives.

How does one volunteer? Be responsible for bringing cookies, or the chapter library, to the chapter meetings. Then move up to be President at the chapter, state, or national level. There are many opportunities in between that take all different skills, talents, time, interests, and abilities. Talk to your chapter president to see where you can help. Take the initiative, do not wait to be asked.

(i.e. virtual meetings, events & auctions, smaller work parties, etc.) Act now, start putting together a nomination and you will be “virtually” recognizing these great members. February is not far away, nominations must be received before February 6, 2022, and may be from either a chapter or a BCHW member.

Award categories are only given out once to a volunteer, please look up nominee to ensure they have not received an award for the same category you are considering. Award categories and descriptions are below and can also be found on www.bchw.org, as well as the list of past recipients and the nomination form.

Would you, your chapter, or local business like to sponsor a specific award? Donations are greatly appreciated this year more than ever. (Don't forget about the tax advantage.) Please reach out to me directly for more information.

BCHW AWARDS CATEGORIES

Junior BCH = 1, max 2 awarded

BACKBONE This award is to recognize that special member who is always there when needed, ready and willing to do some special job that no one else can or will do, sometimes at the last minute. This is a member who is important in keeping the chapter, organization, or event operating smoothly.

Backbone = 2, max 3 awarded

CINCH AWARD The BCHW Board of Directors nominates this award and the President nominates five directors to make the selection. It was created to recognize those hard-working BCHW members who have consistently and competently carried out jobs at the state level, year after year. They may or may not be very visible - they may be quietly working in the background, reliably doing their jobs. They may or may not be active or hold an office in a chapter or even be a chapter member, but they are invaluable at the state level.

Cinch Award = 1, max 2 awarded

2021 BCHW Winery Ride and Halloween Costume Contest

By Barb Thomas BCHW Winery Ride Chair

What a spectacular event we had at the 20th Anniversary of the BCHW Winery Ride. We ran out of camping sites almost a week before the event as everyone was chomping at the bit to get out and have a good time. The weather for Saturday was perfect, clear skies and cool weather.

It's always amazing how many volunteers support this event and without them, well this event would not be possible. A total of 118 volunteers gave up their weekend to help out. Purple Sage Riders sent 22, Mt. St. Helen's sent 20, Wenas Valley and Lewis County sent 12 each and 15 other chapters also sent volunteers.

Without taking away from all of the other wonderful volunteers, as Chair of this event I would like to acknowledge a few who recognized that things could be streamlined and work more efficiently.

Dana Chambers was a key player who brought the registration portion to a whole new level. Registration was almost totally online and gave us a good indication of how many participants would be showing up. Dana spent countless hours communicating with registrants answering questions and making sure that on the day of the event things would run smoothly.

Nancy Rust changed up how the prize drawing was done. It was well organized; less confusion and the prizes were displayed to let people know they were getting value for their money. This must have worked as we sold 1762 tickets, an increase of almost 300 from 2019.

This event would also not be possible without our partners, the wonderful Zillah wineries who have worked this year to add more tying stations, bring in more staff, and spend an exhausting day trying to keep up with the thirsty riders. A special thank you to Nikki Samaniego from Severino Cellars and Llorene Bezanson who have kept the lines of communication open for the established and new wineries.

Here are some of the statistics we have at our disposal. A detailed financial report will be presented to the BOD in December.

Registered .....677
 Riders .....613
 Camp Sites filled .....271
 Raffle Tickets sold .....1,762
 Bottles of wine picked up .....2,400+

Rumor also is that Lori Lennox may have set a new record in clothing sales during this event.

Now that we have set the bar so high, we will be working on any improvements to ensure that 2022 is another banner year! Cheers 🍷

National Public Lands Day in Mount Baker Snoqualmie National Forest

By Kathy Young, BCHW Public Lands Chair

The fourth Saturday in September is celebrated annually as National Public Lands Day, and it is claimed to be the largest single-day volunteer event for public lands in the U.S. So that sounded like a perfect event for Tahoma Chapter to get out to the Mount Baker Snoqualmie National Forest to finish up a sign installation project before the snow flies.

I spent the day with some chapter members and our local Forest Service crew, digging holes in the ground. It was great to be outside working together to accomplish an actual project, considering that in 2020 this celebration of public lands was a virtual online event. And, bonus, after our event there was a BBQ and CAKE. The project we completed, installing the signs, is the real subject I want to highlight in this article.

The real subject: Non-stock use in horse camps. It seems that this issue is becoming one of our biggest concerns, and it is a concern that doesn't have any easy solution. More non-stock users are camping in places designed for stock, appealing sites because they are bigger, quieter, less crowded, and sometimes have no fee. (This article is written specifically to look at US Forest Service management, but of course, the issue occurs on other public properties as well.)

The truth in many cases is that the camps with horse amenities are not officially designated stock-use-only camps. This is certainly true for US Forest Service horse camps in Washington state. On the flip side, the Code of Federal Regulations prohibits stock from using other US Forest Service campgrounds. Directly stated, if you are a hiker, bicyclist, motorcycle rider, 4-wheel enthusiast, dog-walker, you can camp in most, if not all, US Forest Service campgrounds. If you have a horse or mule, you are not allowed in the majority of FS campgrounds. We rely on space in "horse camps," many in Washington have been financed and constructed by BCHW chapters and continue to be maintained by our volunteers.

So back to National Public Lands Day and a successful project that Tahoma Chapter hopes will help keep a couple of FS Horse Camps accessible. The back story: July 31, 2021, the Sand Flats Horse Camp near the Crystal Mtn. Ski area and the Norse Peak Wilderness was the site of a RAVE; an all-night music and dance party, full-on lights, amps, and lots and lots of people, pop-ups, and cars filling the horse camp. It sounds kinda like a fun party unless you are a horse person who has been researching the trails and planning for a quiet weekend riding into an alpine wilderness setting from a horse camp. Then it sounds extraordinarily unnerving and uncomfortable, which it was for an equestrian who called it to BCHW's attention. The videos of the event made their way to me, and on the Monday after, I was able to check out the camp and have a conversation with our local FS personnel to voice my concerns. Win-Win: not only was I pleasantly surprised to find that the camp had been left pristinely cleaned up by the departing users, but our FS folks immediately jumped on board to help work toward a solution.

Fast forward to Sept. 25, 2021, National Public Lands Day; Todd Schmutz USFS Asst. 410 Corridor Manager and his crew from the Enumclaw Ranger Station worked with members of the Tahoma Chapter to install four large "stock use" signs. 2 at the Sand Flats Horse Camp and two at the Government Meadows Horse Camp. The signs are part of an ongoing effort to inform and educate, helping to retain these spaces for stock use. An additional sign will be installed at Buck Creek later. The Forest Service had some funding and a crew available for the work, and the Tahoma chapter voted to pay for the signs.

What's next? BCHA has been working with the US Forest Service headquarters in Washington D.C. this past year, calling attention to this national problem of non-stock users occupying horse camps. Several solutions are being proposed, one of which is to strengthen the language on the Recreation.gov website to identify stock user spaces clearly. Additionally, BCHW has reviewed and made suggestions to draft an internal FS document that will inform FS staff of the needs and expectations for stock camps. Other options have included more direct signage and the possibility of keeping stock sites open until a particular time of the day, after which anyone could camp and vacate the next morning. We are receiving support from the Forest Service, but ultimately, the options are limited without a CFR in place that will designate horse-only camping in certain areas. Currently, there is no way to enforce stock-only use. Right now, we have to rely on education, information, cooperation, and goodwill. We need to keep the issue in front of our forests and local districts and build support for a permanent solution. 🌱

Whatcom BCHW Excelsior Work Party on October 9, 2021

By Fran Van Diest, Whatcom BCH Chapter

At 9:30 Saturday morning the rigs rolled in filling the horse trailer parking area of the Excelsior Pass parking lot. Over the next 1/2 hour the rest of the lot filled up with cars and volunteers prepared to participate in this, the last RTP grant work party for trail improvements in the Mt Baker-Snoqualmie National Forest. Participants were: Kathy Young, Public Lands Chair for BCHW, Laurel Baun from the Tahoma chapter of BCHW, Cindy Piccolo & Kent "Milt" Miller with their rugby team consisting of Tom Wigg Charlie Despain, Sam Brulotte, Neil Gardner and Wesley Tucker. Nonmembers Petra Karpsteinova and Dan Windchess. From our own Whatcom chapter of BCHW, beside Cindy, we had Dan Saber, Roger Nelson, Rocky Leavitt, Judy Kinna, Jackie Yereance, Verna & Andy McLeod and rounding out with Bill & Michelle McKenna.

Michelle had prepared sandwiches and bag lunches for everyone and coordinated a pizza party at Chair nine after the crew returned. Milt and Neil provided security for the parked trailers while we were at work and the rest of the 18 volunteers with seven horses and mules started up the trail to the job site two and a half miles up the steep pass. Once we reached the work site the group split into two groups. The first gathered rocks from the trail and surrounding area filling five gallon buckets then dumping them in the gravel bags on Rocky's mule string. He and Roger packed the load up to the previously built steps, then dropped the load and returned for another. The second crew unloaded and graded the rocks, dug dirt and gathered more stones to fill and grade the steps. Working until nearly 4:00 pm we completed five, quarter mile runs. While the project is not yet completed, the trail is now navigable for both stock and hikers. A good, satisfying, day's work!

Riding back down to the parking lot, it started to sprinkle and was raining as we loaded our animals and drove down to Chair nine in Glacier. As the group sat in a warm, dry room, at a large table, it was raining hard outside. But inside we were warm and dry being served pizza, beer and soft drinks, celebrating a great day in the mountains with friends and workers. 🍕

Fabulous LeBar Horse Camp and Trails

By Kris Lenke, Buckhorn Range Chapter

Nestled amongst gigantic, towering firs and wrapped in serenity, you'll find LeBar Horse Camp. Its appeal becomes evident to anyone who's been there.

It was closed for the 2020 season, but 2021 brought renewed energy and activity. Buckhorn Range Chapter received an RTP grant for $8000 to replace worn Highline cables and gravel the camp road, which took place in May. We also started work on the after-winter trail blowdowns, and WTA attacked some tread issues. We returned in July to finish trail improvements. The Olympic Chapter campout and work party also happened in July, wherein some additional logging out was done.

The main trail is spectacular. It winds through giant firs, moss-draped maples, and drier terrain with periodic access to the S. Fork Skokomish River. It's interesting to ride with its up's, down's, and a few switchbacks.

But wait! There's more! Over the summer, work continued reopening another four miles of the S. Fork Skokomish River trail. I was fortunate to be the first to ride this new section with Bob Hoyle, who was instrumental in its reopening. With coordination amongst the Forest Service, WTA, and BCHW, we will remedy the last troublesome spots for hikers and equestrians.

We're looking forward to a multi-chapter work party in the Spring to reopen the camp and trails.

LeBar has 13 sites (pull-thru and back-in) with highlines, picnic tables, and fire pits. It's a dry camp. It's located 6 miles north of Shelton up the Skokomish Valley Road and Forest Service Road 23.

It's the only horse-only camp in the Olympic National Forest. We continue to lobby for this designation. (Littleton is on DNR land on the north end of the Olympic Peninsula and is maintained by Mt. Olympus Chapter.)

Active use of the camp is important to this cause. See you at LeBar! 🌲

BCHW Represented at Kitsap County Fair

By Mickey Centeno, Olympic Chapter President

All it took was the mention that our Kitsap County fair would be held in less than four weeks to ignite the idea that maybe there was a place for BCHW. We take it for granted that others know about us and our mission. But how would the general public know of our existence? We do not occupy a building, we don't usually wear our logo, and no signs show that we did the trail work. When I joined BCHW four years ago, I thought it was a trail riding group.

I reached out to many of the chapters around Puget Sound and the fair board to assess interest. They had not done this event before, but thankfully several members embraced. I know firsthand from other events that the first year is the hardest – as everyone sits back to wait and see how it will go first. My initial vision was to see whether we could have a booth, or even just a stall, set up a Leave No Trace (LNT) display, and maybe bring an animal. The fair's response was they offered us an entire 24 stall barn and a large demo area and time in the huge arena.

Our goal was three-fold: RECRUIT new members, ADVERTISE our mission and our capabilities, and CONNECT with other horse groups and trail users in hopes of recruiting and joining in trail maintenance projects. It started with phone calls to various members to see if they could bring an animal and then share a skill or two. As a result, we could bring in mules, donkeys, drafts, horses, and a mini – more even than 4H!

Twenty posters were lining the length of the barn aisle, featuring Legislative day, our BCHW mission statement, “how-to-tie a manty” (Thank you Suzie Howes!), “Meet our members,” and pictures of various work parties as well as packing trips others have done. Chapters all around Puget Sound were contacted to hopefully jump on board, as this was a BCHW event, not just for Olympic Chapter. One member came from the Nisqually chapter, brought animals for the week, and demonstrated roping and LNT with her service dog (Elizabeth Poore-Jennings). We cobbled together an LNT display (Sue Sundahl), set up a wall tent, complete with Al Whitworth's LQ, which featured kitchen boxes that could detach and fit in a pannier. Thank you to Buckhorn Chapter members Gail Rase and Lennie Harris for providing items for LNT and giveaway. On display were all types of packs – from simple panniers to entire packs with boxes and ropes. A local author displayed hand-painted pictures from her book about a mule, who then read the story in a walking tour down the barn aisle.

Junior members greeted the public, asking if they had questions, and bragging about their animals. Our member Joe Ward demonstrated his saddle-building skills. Patsy Bingham, a farrier, gave a talk on hoof boots. Two of our donkeys (Steph Hanlon) trotted over to the Pet-Me-Farm twice daily to the delight of many kids! Youth member Trinity Bingham set up a straw bale with cow heads and demonstrated roping techniques for other youth. Al Whitworth tied his two draft mules Cookie and Mary, and was joined by Harold Wiese to demonstrate and guide hands-on learning how to tie and pack the manty. The original plan was for two packing demos a day, with two other demos of varying topics. Packing proved to be so popular that it became an ongoing demo, and recipients included our own members, 4H and Futura Farmers of America (FFA)! 4-H invited our adult and youth members to participate in their games and performance shows. BCHW members helped set up their dressage arena. FFA faculty asked us to continue the education at their school. The fair board asked if we would be interested in using the even larger rodeo arena for future events! The final result is our members are enthusiastic about returning next year. It was truly a family affair, as well as we got to know each other even better with community breakfast (Ward family) and evening chats at the barn. 🍷

When Your Bucket List Includes Riding On An Ocean Beach

By Darrell Wallace, Northeast Chapter

I knew that my wife Kristy wanted to ride on an ocean beach but had never done so. She didn't hesitate to accept when I suggested such a trip in late September. Now that involves an eight-hour trip hauling horses from our home near Deer Park – IF I time it, so I miss the heavy traffic on the western WA highways –so we would need to leave early in the morning. And we are getting older and not as eager to camp. And not everywhere has accommodations for horses – so what to do?

I remembered that BCHW members David and Carol Bainter used to operate a bed and breakfast with horse pens near Grayland, so I called them and found that Ocean Acres Horse Hotel is still operating! Bring your own hay and feed, but a nice pen with water for each horse and, even better, a nice room with a soft bed and hot shower for us! And I won't describe the big breakfasts – it would just make you hungry – for campers as well as softies like us.

We found that David had prepared a nice straight trail through the primary dune to the beach, and there we were: riding near the surf with nothing but 4,700 miles of water between us and Japan! Flotsam and jetsam, driftwood, jellyfish, crab and clamshells, – and not many people! Most of the beachgoers that day were parents with small children, so retired schoolteacher Kristy just had to offer every kid a chance to pet a horse. It made for a long, slow, relaxing ride – just what we wanted after a long, hot, smoky summer in eastern WA.

If you have never ridden on a beach, but your horse likes to roll in the sand, you may need to pay close attention, as Kristy learned. And when that big wave comes in, even on an outgoing tide, it's best to turn your horse away and let it move out quickly! But what a great experience! We met several nice people there for the same reasons we were.

Dave and Carol are now operating a similar camping opportunity for snowbirds near Quartzite, AZ, from November through April. Still, their family operates the Grayland facility as a self-serve operation during those months. Call them at 360-267-5521 for more information. 🐾

Sequim Scout Troop 1498 Horsemanship Merit Badge Weekend with Peninsula Chapter BCHW September 25-26, 2021

By Linda Morin, Educational Chair,

Wow-what a weekend.

On September 25 and 26, 2021, sixteen Scouts and four leaders from Sequim Scout Troop 1498 gathered at Layton Hill Horse Camp (LHHC) in Sequim to begin earning their Horsemanship Merit badges. Twenty-four members of Peninsula Chapter Back Country Horsemen of Washington (18 “instructors” and six support staff) presented twenty-one equines of thirteen different breeds from donkey to mule, mini to draft, gaited to ungated. These eager, attentive scouts, in two days, were introduced to the basic skills of horse handling: how to approach, halter, lead, and groom. They also learned safety-knot tying and about English and Western tack. Then, finally, all of them started riding.

Breeds, Colors, gaits, and an extensive tack display of all “tools equine,” ranging from an 1880’s side saddle to manure forks and wheelbarrows, were presented. The future manure movers of America were trained.

The Scouts did a great job of LNT (Leave No Trace) – they left the horse camp clean as if they had never been there.

More sessions will be held this Fall, both classroom and hands-on, to ensure these Scouts each complete all of their merit badge requirements.

This was a major project for Peninsula Chapter BCHW, in harmony with the education component of their mission statement. Peninsula Chapter is looking ahead to 2022 to continue its mission to educate people of all ages in our community about the importance of equines to the health of our forests and trails and trail building and maintenance in collaboration with the local land managers’ support. Anyone with a love of the Olympic Peninsula and all it offers can join. Owning stock is not a requirement. We need all skill sets.

If you are interested in knowing more about Peninsula Chapter BCHW, please access their website at www.pbchw.org. 🌿

- Grants end on October 31, 2021.

Her goal is to have time to pursue new projects and new funding sources this winter when things slow down a bit.

NEW RTP Grants

- Contract was signed on 9-9-2021 for the Tread Lightly for Public Recreation Education Project. The bad news is that the RCO only provided funding for 1 year and unfortunately created contracts late, which left us about 3 weeks to spend $8,700 of this project (funding for 1 “year”).
- New contract for the Tread Lightly project will be available in April 2022 and end September 31, 2022, and will provide an additional $8,700 of grant funding for implementing this project.
- We anticipate signing contracts for the grant projects below later this fall (November?):
- Rehabilitating Olympic Peninsula Trails ($82,486 with $207,974 match)

He encouraged BCHW to seek out a person with the time to participate in collaboration meetings with other partnering organizations and someone that can work aggressively with BCHW to educate and get our folks involved. This person should be committed to attending BCHW BOD meetings and looking at ways to grow our packing program. Report posted.

Public Lands – Kathy Young Report posted.

In Washington State, Mitzi Schindele and Kathy Young are representing BCHW in the advisory group that is considering the use of e-bikes on Dept. of Natural Resources and WA Fish and Wildlife properties. The final meeting of the group is on Sept 16. A report from the group will be compiled to send to DNR and WDFW. The agencies will review the report as advisory and will also be conducting public meetings to help inform their decisions regarding the future use of e-bikes on trails and closed/gated roads. BCHW continues to assert that e-bikes should be categorized as motorized and that education and trail etiquette should be a primary focus. We are continuing to consider use and impact while recognizing that e-bikes are a legitimate and growing recreational interest.

She provided an update on the non-equestrian use of horse camps. The Forest Service has created a draft document “Recommended Best Practices for Managing Equestrian Use Sites at Developed Campgrounds”. This draft was shared with field staff for review, as well as being reviewed by the members of the BCHA PLC committee. BCHA concludes that the language of the draft is not strong and will not provide a specific resolution that will keep stock camps available for stock use. BCHA has responded, asking for more specifically direct language coming from the Washington D.C. office to the forests. BCHA would ultimately like to have a CFR (Code of Federal Regulations) put into place to address stock priority in designated stock camps. This issue is also a matter of concern for the American Horse Council. If you have ideas related to this topic, please contact Kathy.

She reported positions for Kittitas County and Northeast area representatives on the Public Lands Committee. Please contact her if you are interested.

Louise Caywood (Pierce Co) thanked Kathy for her help with Pierce Co State Parks’ effort related to putting in an equestrian loop.
